If you've had a chance to watch Trigger Warning on Netflix ft. Rapper Killer Mike here are some of the talent from his favorite strip club the Blue Flame Lounge.

Bollywood film actress and Indian glamour model Poonam Pandey has no problems with showing the world what she's working with. If you want more, check out her videos on YouTube or a few of her clips on IG.

Sometimes the “Naomi Campbell walk” can cause a boob to pop out - so be careful.

IG phenom Brittany Renner drops a topless photo labeled sex tape and I have to spend an hour looking for it. Sadly, it doesn't exist so don't believe the hype!

What the fuck is this? Amber Rose dropped this nude shot showing her nipple on IG. Now, we are all aware of IG's anti-nipple stance. Yet, the photo is still there. I wonder if they consider it art.

Ever wonder what Cardi B looks like in the morning? Well, here ya go!

VERIFIED: Model and entrepreneur Sheneka Adams actually has a sex tape. I'm not sure how that is going to effect her overall business brand. It's not a big deal if you're a model or actress - not great if you're at the head of the table in the boardroom.

In other leaking news, fitness model Genesis Mia Lopez must have really missed her Snapchat. She took more that two dozen picture in various stages of undress, showing off her amazing body. I really wish we could show them all here, especially the one that features a close up of her hoo ha.

Racism in Porn by Dr. Blackman

While I was researching this article, I was looking for a sound reason for actually writing it. I found it in a quote from the three time AVN Performer of the Year Lexington Steele - “Let’s remember: porn often reflects society.”

Seventy percent of men and thirty percent of women view porn, mostly online.

-In 2017 alone, Pornhub got 28.5 BILLION visits. That’s almost 1,000 visits a second, or 78.1 million a day—way more than the population of the entire United Kingdom.

-In 2016, 91,980,225,000 videos were watched on Pornhub. That’s 12.5 videos for every person on the planet.

-Also, more than 4,599,000,000 hours of porn were watched on the site in just one year. That’s equal to 5,246 centuries.

There are almost as many connoisseurs of porn as there are viewers of television.

So, why does the porn industry still participate in and at times even encourage the use of racist language and visuals?

The racist language used to identify the clips on Pornhub is disturbing. When you do a search for interracial clips you’ll find...

- Savage assaults Helpless victim
- Getting fucked by BBC ball player
- Huge Black Stud with massive BBC fucks wife
- White woman just wants BBC
- PAWG wanted some THUG love from a BBC
- Cougars love BBC
- Don’t be dark hued and suspicious around Black Patrol (White female police officers fuck Black guys)
- Wife getting destroyed by BBC in front of husband
- Mandingo mania

For those of you not familiar with the lingo (I wasn’t) a PAWG is a phat ass white girl, a Cougar is usually an older white woman, a BBC is a big black cock and Mandingo is a racial slur deriving from a seventies movie where a Louisiana plantation owner’s son (Hammond) has an affair with a slave. She gets pregnant and he beats her, causing her to have a miscarriage. As an apology he gives her a pair of ruby earrings that his wife (Blanche) notices as the slave is serving dinner. Blanche gets her revenge by demanding that Mede (Mandingo) come to her bedroom. Although the other slaves attempt to stop him, Mede does as he is ordered. Blanche says she will accuse Mede of rape if he does not have sex with her, so he spends the night with her. Blanche’s sexuality is reawakened by Mede, whom she finds exceptionally well-endowed, and she has sex with him several more times. We all know how the movie ends.

There’s also terms like Ghetto Pussy, Nappy Head, THOT (that ho over there) when referring to Black or Non-White porn actresses.

For white women a career in the porn industry can be long and lucrative. While the counterparts are paid less, fight to stay relevant and are often used in scenes that show the darker side of the industry.

← EXAMPLE

I’ve seen scenes where Black women are slapped, choked, spit on, pissed and ejaculated on - sometimes all in the same scene - by white men.

The same can not be said about white women. You would be hard pressed to find a scene where a Black man is doing the same things to a white woman. Even when it comes close, it's either an amateur being pissed on or it's like wrestling, it looks fake.

How many people who have denounced this kind of behavior have also unapologetically supported an industry that thrives off of promoting unjustified racial stereotypes— simply because society has normalized sexual entertainment that breaks the rules of what's generally accepted, and called it porn?

Not many.

Activist Gail Dines has said, "All pornography uses sex as a vehicle to transmit messages about the legitimacy of racism and sexism. Hiding behind the façade of fantasy and harmless fun, pornography delivers reactionary racist stereotypes that would be considered unacceptable were they in any other types of mass-produced media. However, the power of pornography is that these messages have a long history and...continue to inform policies that economically, politically and socially discriminate against people of color."

I think that one of the main reasons for concern, is the rise in racist porn since the beginning of the Trump administration.

Yes, he's had an effect on the porn industry. With a number of racist feeling more emboldened by a racist administration, a number of porn directors and performers are letting their social views show in their work.

According to Steele, he's only recently encountered an issue with a performer's use of voluntary racial slurs. "I had a girl take it upon herself to say 'nigga' twice during a scene. I told her I don't allow the use of that on my sets and she felt the need to argue with me. Essentially she felt because she had said it on other sets that it was okay," Steele recalls. "I've been a director for fifteen years and never had that on my set."

Moe "The Monster" Johnson filed a lawsuit against director Jim Camp and Dogfart Productions for, he alleges, persuading his female white co-star, Ryan Conner, to call him the N-word on camera without his consent.

It has always been my understanding that pornography has been all about creating a fantasy.

Whether it was Playboy and their girl next door or the more provocative women of Hustler, it was always about the taste of the consumer and the fantasy.

Which brings to question, who's fantasizing about choking a black woman almost to the point of losing consciousness? Ramming their penis so far down her throat and pinching her nose so she can't breathe. Then slapping her across and spitting in her face while calling her a filthy nigger.

Or dressing up as a member of the Klan, tying up and torturing Black men before letting them gangbang you.

Why in 2019, are we still continuing to perpetuate the myth that white women are helpless or that all Black men are walking around with dicks hanging down to their knees? Or that white women don't willingly sleep with Black men for that matter.

I get the clown fetish or stockings but do people have a racism fetish?

A scene shot between a black man and a white woman would be the exact same scene without a confederate flag on the wall and her shouting "fuck me nigger".

I know that porn likes to play to the extremes, just take a look at kink.com.

However, racism isn't an extreme or a fetish...it's a sickness. A sickness that is well past it's time for a cure.

If we aren't willing to hold the porn industry accountable for continuing to feed this illness then we can never hope to cure it.

We've struggled to rid our society of racism and bigotry, I think the porn industry's amount of misogyny is shocking enough without adding blatant racism to the mix.

Living Black In America

There are many of you that are going to read this and think it's hyperbole, an exaggeration of the truth or that maybe I'm just too sensitive.

There are others that will read this and relate.

Let me start with this.

The problem here, however, is suggested by the comment I made earlier, that the initial enactment of this legislation in a—in a time when the need for it was so much more abundantly clear was—in the Senate, there—it was double-digits against it. And that was only a 5-year term.

Then, it is reenacted 5 years later, again for a 5-year term. Double-digits against it in the Senate. Then it was reenacted for 7 years. Single digits against it. Then enacted for 25 years,

*8 Senate votes against it. And this last enactment, not a single vote in the Senate against it. And the House is pretty much the same. Now, I don't think that's attributable to the fact that it is so much clearer now that we need this. I think it is attributable, very likely attributable, to a phenomenon that is called perpetuation of racial entitlement. It's been written about. Whenever a society adopts racial entitlements, it is very difficult to get out of them through the normal political processes.

I don't think there is anything to be gained by any Senator to vote against continuation of this act. And I am fairly confident it will be reenacted in perpetuity unless—unless a court can say it does not comport with the Constitution. You have to show, when you are treating different States differently, that there's a good reason for it. - Antonin Scalia on the Voting Rights Act States began restricting voting rights soon after...in 2013.

Living Black in America is like living behind enemy lines. Imagine how the hostages must have felt during their stay at the Hanoi Hilton in Vietnam. I can only imagine that everyday they got out of bed they had the cold hard rock of uncertainty churning in their stomachs.

Most of us try to pretend it's not happening. But it's real!

Let me give you a few examples.

I get up in the morning and go to the United Dairy Farmers for a couple of energy drinks. Depending on who is working that day, I'm usually watched from behind the counter as if I'm going to steal something from a place that I show up in almost everyday.

Normally, there are a couple of cops in there having coffee and “protecting and serving” a few donuts. The same two cops were there after the Trump won the election. The worker behind the counter was another Black man and we shared a few grievances over the election when he decides to point to the cop and say “He wants him to build the wall.”

I just looked at him nervously in disbelief. “Damn right!” he responded.

Now how in the holy fuck can you protect and serve anyone with those types of racist beliefs. When that cop shows up at a call involving Mexican Americans are they going to be treated fairly?

Probably not.

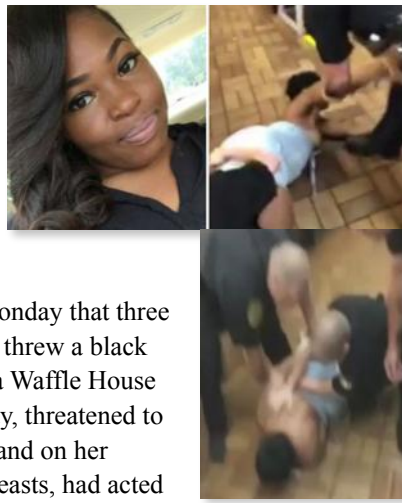

My other question is how many lives has that cops racist attitude ruined.

Like the 2 young men that were arrested for absolutely nothing in Starbucks. The first thing I said was that you never get that back, meaning once you have been harassed, embarrassed and emotionally raped as these two men were - you can never get the level of self confidence and dignity back.

Those of you that are still sleeping (not woke) would commend them for cooperating with the police or perhaps you thought that they were just in the wrong place at the wrong time but if the exact same thing would have happened to a white man there would have been outrage.

A Black woman in Alabama was literally sexually assaulted by cops when she was thrown to the ground and choked while her breast and panties were exposed. An Alabama police department said Monday that three white police officers who threw a black woman onto the floor of a Waffle House during an arrest on Sunday, threatened to break her arm, placed a hand on her throat and exposed her breasts, had acted appropriately. The women asked for plastic ware with their meal, her mother said, but a waitress told them that the utensils cost 50 cents extra. When Ms. Clemons and Ms. Adams objected and said they had not been charged for them in the past, the waitress canceled their order, Ms. Clemons-Howard said.

In both of these instances had either of the subjects acted as if they had any rights in this country to due process of the law or to at least have their side of the story heard so that the police could make a more informed judgement call - they would have been dead.

The white police had threatened to break the arm of the young lady, why? Because she wasn't human to him. Do you think that he would have handled this same situation in the same way if the young lady were white.

Onlookers used a cellphone camera on July 1, 2014 to record the unidentified cop pummeling 51 year old Marlene Pinnock as he straddled her near an offramp in Los Angeles.

Pinnock, who was homeless, remained hospitalized with a head injury. The officer seen striking Pinnock was reassigned to a desk job.

What if that was your mother or grandmother?

If you watch the clip, this is a young strong white trained officer punching an elderly woman in the face. Had she been a white grandmother the country would have lost their minds and he would have been fired immediately, not assigned a desk job.

Most recently, Willie McCoy aka rapper Willie Bo was shot to death in a Taco Bell parking lot while SLEEPING in his

LOCKED CAR!
Vallejo police were called to the parking lot shortly after 10:30 after employees reported a driver slumped over in a car at the drive-thru.

Police allege that two officers noticed a gun on McCoy's lap before calling for backup. McCoy woke up. Vallejo police allege McCoy was given several commands to put his hands up but failed to do so, moving his hands toward the gun. Officers, who allegedly feared for their safety, shot McCoy. He was pronounced dead on the scene.

As a Black man who lives under the flowing flag of freedom, supposedly with the same rights as every other man and woman in this country, I feel like I'm living under the flag of freedumb more than freedom.

I can't understand why whites in this country feel they are superior. What exactly have they done to have such a high view of themselves?

Every year the FBI, the agency tasked with tracking hate crimes across America, releases their crime statistics from the previous year. And according to its findings, white people are still pretty damn hateful and racist.

As of this writing, the idiot in the white house has declared a national emergency at the border, claiming that the migrants coming from Central America are rapist and murderers... murderers...Murderers!

Yet, statistics show that undocumented immigrants are 142% LESS likely to commit a crime in America while at the same time of the more than 6,000 hate crimes tracked by the FBI white men accounted for 46.3% of them.

The hunt is on - and we're the prey!

There are racist everywhere, from the local stores that we frequent all the way to the top officials in government.

Who can non-whites trust?

How can we continue to live in a society where they are continually pointing the finger at us for the very things that they are regularly guilty of?

According to the SPLC (Southern Poverty Law Center) there are 947 hate groups in America, up 20% since Trump took office. And they are growing. Continuing to infiltrate our police force and people in positions of power.

No amount of prayer is going to make this stop - I know how Black folks love to pray and put it in God's hands and to that I have to say that if it truly were in God's hands then our people wouldn't still be being murdered in the streets.

The question is what are we going to do?

Sexual Horoscopes

Have Fun with this

Aries: You are highly ambitious, full of optimism and enthusiasm for new enterprises and plans. In fact, you may be foolishly over-confident and take on more challenges than you can really meet. You are inclined to take physical risks, gamble, speculate, and to act on faith and belief in yourself. This can, in fact, be a very productive time for you if you can keep your expectations within reasonable bounds. Beware of over-exerting yourself.

Taurus: Your relationships are especially affectionate and friendly at this time, and you may benefit socially or materially through an opportunity offered to you by a friend. This is a good time for parties, social gatherings, and other pleasurable activities.

Gemini: You are mentally restless and can not concentrate well on your immediate, familiar tasks. You are not inclined to discipline your mind or focus on practical matters, unless there is an element of gambling, play, or risk-taking involved. Reading something that is mind expanding, taking a trip, or planning a vacation is favored at this time.

Cancer: You are impulsively affectionate and flirtatious at this time, and you feel quite restless if you are in a stable, predictable relationship that offers little excitement. You may be highly attracted to someone new, simply because of the novelty and possibilities for adventure. Also, your friends or love partner may behave in unexpected ways. Flexibility and openmindedness in your relationships is called for now.

Leo: Your feelings run hot now, and you are more likely to act on instinct, emotion, and impulse rather than reason. Your responses to life are passionate, and also more natural, childlike, and direct. High spirited physical play, lovemaking, or any activity that really involves you emotionally (such as a rock concert, a rousing football game, etc.) will be very gratifying to you now.

Virgo: Relationships with the opposite sex are intensified now. You experience strong feelings of attraction and love desire, and if you are unhappy in your sexual life, you can be very tense and angry "for no reason" now. You may be tempted to act on an infatuation.

Libra: Your idealism, creative imagination, and sense of awe and wonder about life are stirred now. The child in you is strong. You are likely to encounter fascinating information on the latest scientific technologies and progressive social movements in the world that stir your imagination and idealism.

Scorpio: An intense emotional or sexual attraction, a very revealing, intimate encounter, or a powerful desire to be close to, and share your deepest feelings with, someone is very likely now. Emotions and issues in a close relationship that have been brewing beneath the surface for quite awhile come to the surface at this time, possibly in a very disruptive way. All of your relationships intensify and you need to be aware of your tendency to act in a rather compulsive, demanding way towards others.

Sagittarius: Friendships and love relationships are favored as you are openly affectionate, warm, and also quite responsive to loving gestures from others. It's not enough for you to simply feel loving toward another - at this time you really want to express it and show it physically. An opportunity for a new romance or friendship is likely to surface now and work out quite nicely for you.

Capricorn: At this time you are inclined to invest your time and money into making your environment more beautiful and comfortable. You may also wish to enhance your personal appearance in some way, such as getting a new hair style or purchasing clothing, cosmetics and the like. Social gatherings are also very positive for you now.

Aquarius: This is a difficult time period. Many things simply refuse to go the way you planned them. Things have a way of running their own course, regardless of your plans or intentions. Disturbances, annoyances, and interruptions make it difficult for you to stick to your schedule.

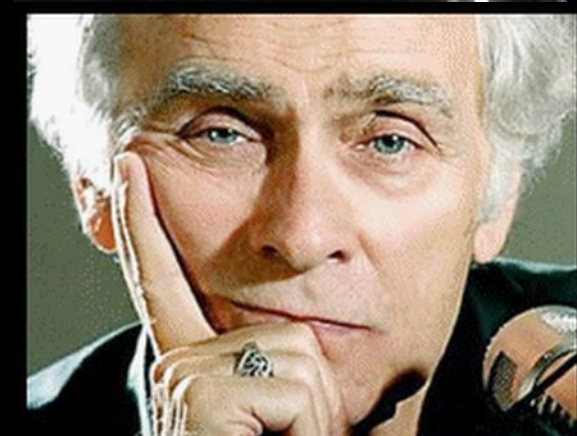

Pisces: You feel expansive, enthusiastic, and optimistic now. You want to reach out, do more and experience more. You benefit greatly from the opportunities that present themselves at this time, and a person who will be very influential and helpful to you may come into your life.
